Soai University is a private university in the city of Osaka, Japan. Since the foundation of Soai School in 1888, the motto "To–So–Kyo–Ai" has gradually become the motto of the whole Soai academic institution (including Soai Junior and Senior High School and Soai Junior Conservatory of Music). The motto has also become Soai University's motto because it is the basis of the sort of human education that society demands from universities, regardless of the times.

This university has three faculties: Music (Department of Music); Humanities (Department of Humanities); Human Development (Department of Child Development Studies, Department of Food and Nutrition Management Studies)
